

FEATURED AUTHOR

Sam P., author of
Hooked on Humor: Life Upside Down

About the Book

I was so fortunate to meet and work with wonderful people all my life. In other words, I was always surrounded by people with a dry sense of humor. My friends are loving and caring toward all God's creations. It made our world always happy. Even when we were in crises we didn't stop using our sense of humor. It also kept us feeling and looking young. We handled life's obstacles much easier than others did. My goal in life is always to put a smile on someone's face. With this book I hope that I did a good job!

The humor in this book contains real comments and conversations that I have collected over the years.

About the Author

Sam P. is an elementary school art teacher on Long Island, New York. She received her BA in Fine Arts and her Masters in Art Education from Adelphi University, Garden City, NY. Sam P. loves to travel, cook gourmet foods and watch comedy during her free time. She has won 2nd place and 3rd place awards in sculpture at East Meadow Public Library. Her students have won many awards and prizes for poster contests. She believes that Art Education is very important in children's lives since most people are visual learners. It also increases their awareness of society, environment and the world around them.

Excerpt

I was running so fast to ask you out ... What do you say? Is it a yes?
No ... You passed me and you won!!