*Always Willing to Create: A Poetic Journey Through Expression

About the Book

Always Willing to Create describes many different journeys, times, and places through poetry. It keeps in mind many different people regardless of race, gender, religion, or any other category. This book is for anybody; for those who live inside the box, or who think outside of it; for those who are currently creating their dreams, to those who are just trying to find the right dream to follow. This book looks into the lives of many, hoping to inspire many more. Each word is a step in a journey that your mind can create, and will inspire an action or reaction.

About the Author

Steven John Barnhart is not just an author; he is a songwriter, student, and entrepreneur. He began writing at the age of eight, and has yet to look back. Steven is also a dedicated student. He received his Bachelor's degree in Psychology from the University of Central Florida.

Testimonials

“When I first met Steven there was an instant magnetism because of his nice characteristics. Then I read his poetry and it only enhanced that magnetism. I remember actually crying when I read his description of the true beauty he found in a woman through his eyes. Steven is blessed with a gift that is well beyond our time. I am not only happy that the world will experience his beautiful writing, but I am even more grateful that I can call him my friend.”

“The chance to witness the innermost thoughts of life's journey. The meaning and perspective of everyday situations, and the not-so-everyday experiences. The growth of one individual, emotionally, mentally, and most importantly, spiritually. It's often hard to see how we become who we are. This book gives its audience the opportunity to put many things into perspective, to realize how life's hardships and life's blessings, which are often one in the same, effect our inner workings. With all that is embodied in each story told, there is a factor of relativity that will impact many from all different walks of life, life experiences, and future paths. An amazing glimpse into the life of all human nature.”
